David practices in three overlapping specialties: municipal finance, real estate finance, and bankruptcy. He is nationally recognized in these practice areas by Chambers USA, Legal 500 US, and other leading legal directories.

David represents Trustees and Bondholders in the structuring, purchasing, working out, and restructuring of high-yield bonds, the proceeds of which are used to finance senior living, hospitals, student housing, multifamily housing, shopping centers, hotels and convention centers, airports, ports, and facilities to produce novel products.

Based on this extensive experience, David understands the legal issues that arise as a result of distress and the ways to protect Bondholders and maximize their returns. He takes a proactive approach to protecting Bondholders' financial interests.

Client Work

David has participated in transactions aggregating over $50 billion. These transactions include the $1.6 billion financing of World Trade Center Tower 3, the $2.7 billion financing of Stuyvesant Town-Peter Cooper Village, and the $3.5 billion financing of the American Dream Project.

He also has extensive workout and bankruptcy experience ranging from representing clients on the Drexel Burnham Lambert Group and Lehman Brothers Holdings Inc. creditors committees, in the Puerto Rico bankruptcy under PROMESA, and in the United Airlines, Delta Airlines, Orange County, Detroit, Central Falls, Harrisburg, San Bernardino, and Stockton bankruptcy cases.

During the COVID-19 pandemic, David represented the Federal Reserve Bank of New York in the development and implementation of its first-ever intervention in the municipal market. In March 2020, the municipal market was significantly destabilized by the pandemic. The Municipal Liquidity Facility was created to effectively stabilize the municipal market in the spring of 2020.
